

we would like to have wisconsin's No Call Law remain the same. There is no reason to change it. If we have a relationship with a business and we wish to terminate it that is our choice. And if we choose to reinstate our relationship with that business it stands to reason that we would know how to contact them. There is no reason for them to call us.